PRESIDENT'S NOTE TO GERMANY

Demands That Safety of Americans Be Assured.

The Secretary of State Ad Interim to the American Ambassador at Berlin, Department of State, Washington, June 9, 1915.

"You are instructed to deliver personally the following note to the Minister of Foreign Affairs:

"The compliance with Your Excellency's request I did not fail to transmit to my Government immediately upon their receipt of your note of May 28. In reply to my note of May 15, and your supplementary note of June 1, setting forth the conclusions so far as reached by the Imperial German Government concerning the attacks on the American steamers Cushing and Gullflight, I am now instructed by my Government to communicate the following reply:

"The Government of the United States notes with gratification the full recognition of the Imperial German Government, in discussing the cases of the Cushing and the Gullflight, of the principles of the freedom of all parts of the open sea to neutral ships and the frank willingness of the Imperial German Government to acknowledge and meet its liability where the fact of attack upon neutral ships, which have not been guilty of any hostile act by German aircraft or vessels of war is satisfactorily established; and the Government of the United States will in due course lay before the Imperial German Government, as it requests, full information concerning the attack on the steamer Cushing.

Surprised, at Falaba Contention. "With regard to the sinking of the steamer Falaba, by which an American citizen lost his life, the Government of the United States is surprised to find the Imperial German Government contending that an effort on the part of a merchantman to escape capture and secure assistance alters the obligations of the officer seeking the capture in respect of the safety of the lives of those on board the merchantman, although the vessel had ceased her attempt to escape when torpedoed. "These are not new circumstances.

They have been in the minds of states men and of international jurists throughout the development of naval warfare and the Government of the United States does not understand that they have ever been held to alter the principles of humanity upon which it has insisted.

"Nothing but actual and forcible resistance or continued effort to escape by flight when order to stop for the purpose of visit on the part of the merchantman has ever been held to forfeit the lives of her passengers or crew.

"The Government of the United States however, does not understand that the Imperial German Government is seeking in this case to relieve itself of liability, but only intends to set forth the circumstances which led the commander of the submarine to allow himself to be hurried into the course which he took.

Declares Lusitania Not Armed
"Your Excellency's note, in discussing the loss of American lives resulting from the loss of the steamship Lusitania adverts at some length to certain information which the Imperial German Government has received with regard to the character and outfit of that vessel, and Your Excellency expresses the fear that this information may not have been brought to the attention of the United States.

"It is stated that the Lusitania undoubtedly was supplied with masked guns, supplied with trained gunners, and special ammunition, transporting troops from Canada, carrying a cargo not permitted under the laws of the United States to a vessel also carrying passengers, and serving in virtual effect, as an auxiliary to the naval forces of Great Britain.

"Fortunately, these are matters concerning which the Government of the United States is in a position to give the Imperial German Government official information. Of the facts alleged in Your Excellency's note, if true, the Government of the United States

COUNTRY AWAITING GERMANY'S REPLY

Official and Diplomatic Washington Satisfied That Wilson's Note Will Convince Germany That This Nation is in Earnest.

(Special to The Herald)

Firm in its demands that Germany must give assurance that the lives of Americans must be safeguarded and that the lives of non-combatants can not lawfully nor rightfully be placed in jeopardy by the capture or destruction of unresisting merchantmen, President Wilson's second note on the destruction of the Lusitania is before the German officials today and official and diplomatic Washington has begun a period of waiting for word from Berlin that will determine the future relations of the nations. The next few days' developments will tell whether the German attitude will be such that diplomatic relations between the two countries may be continued, or whether steps must be taken to convince the German government of the earnestness of the United States. The second Wilson note has created a generally favorable impression in Washington although it does not contain language as strong as what was expected by many after reading the resignation of Mr. Bryan. It is held that the second note will still keep open the way for the diplomatic parley.

There was considerable speculation here today as to that portion of the note that caused Mr. Bryan to refuse to affix his signature. The note strongly represents this government's position but its actual language is considered as being no stronger, if as firm as that contained in the note which the now retired secretary of state did sign.

It is believed in official circles that Germany will be unable to find any loop hole through which to seek any way that a definite answer can be avoided and Washington is keyed up to the highest pitch while awaiting the reply that will come within a few days.

Berlin, June 11.—The second American note relative to Germany's warfare and the sinking of the Lusitania was delivered to the German foreign office this afternoon.

URGE ACTION FOR COTTON

Washington, June 10.—Representative Webb of North Carolina urged President Wilson to send promptly a note to Great Britain covering the general subject of neutral rights as affected by the blockade of the Allies. Mr. Webb and other southern members of Congress in whose behalf he spoke, feel that the cotton interests have suffered unjustifiably as a result of the embargo. No comment was made at the White House concerning what the President told Mr. Webb, but the latter advised friends later that the President had promised early action. The President, it is known, has had under consideration for some time a note to be sent to Great Britain urging a compliance with the request of the United States as expressed in its protest of March 30, to Great Britain and France against the operations of the blockade on commerce in non-combustible articles consigned through neutral countries.

Mr. Bryan and some other members of the Cabinet strongly urged the President to send the note at the same time the American communication of May 13 went forward to Germany concerning submarine warfare. While the President believed the note should be sent, he did not believe it wise to complicate the situation further, with there was a clear notion of what the position of the German Government would be toward the United States. His final decision, however, has been dependent upon the gathering of data concerning seizures and detentions of American ships, and it is said to be entirely possible that the note may go forward before the reply is received to the American note sent to Germany yesterday.

would have been bound to take official cognizance in performing its recognized duty as a neutral Power, and in enforcing its National laws.

It was the duty to see to it that the Lusitania was not armed for offensive action; that she was not serving as a transport that she did not carry a cargo prohibited by the statutes of the United States; and that, if in fact she was a naval vessel, of Great Britain, she should not receive clearance as a merchantman; and it performed that duty and enforced its statutes with a vigorous and regular vigilance.

Lusitania Claims "Irrelevant"

Therefore to assure the German Government that it is not an interested party in the Imperial German Government's attempt to perform these duties with thoroughness, the Government of the United States sincerely hopes that it will submit that evidence for consideration.

Whatever may be the result of the Imperial German Government regarding the carriage of contraband of war on board the Lusitania or regarding the explosion of that material by the torpedo, it need only be said that in the view of this Government these contentions are irrelevant to the question of the legality of the methods used by the German naval authorities in sinking the vessel.

For the sinking of passenger ships involves principles of humanity which throw into the background any special circumstances of detail that may be thought to affect the cases—principles which this, as the Imperial German Government will not doubt be quick to recognize and acknowledge, but of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or of international controversy.

Whatever may be the other facts regarding the Lusitania, the principal fact is that a great steamer, primarily and chiefly a conveyance for passengers and carrying more than a thousand souls who had no part or lot in the conduct of the war, was torpedoed and sunk without so much as a challenge or a warning and the men, women and children were not permitted death in circumstances unbecoming in modern warfare.

Germany's Grave Responsibility
The fact that more than 100 American citizens were among those who perished made it the duty of the Government of the United States to express of these things, and only with solemn emphasis to call the attention of the Imperial German Government to the grave responsibility which the Government of the United States conceives that it has incurred in this tragic occurrence, and to the fundamental principle upon which that responsibility rests.

The Government of the United States is contending for something much greater than mere rights of property or privileges of commerce. It is contending for nothing less high and sacred than the rights of humanity, which every Government honors itself in respecting and which no Government is justified in regarding on behalf of those under its care and authority. Only her usual resistance to capture, or refusal to stop when ordered to do so for the purpose of visit, could have afforded the commander of the submarine any justification for so much as putting the lives of those on board the ship in jeopardy.

This principle the Government of the United States understands the explicit instructions issued on August 3, 1914, by the Imperial German Admiralty to its commanders at sea to have recognized and embodied, as do the Naval Codes of all other nations, and upon it every traveler and seaman had a right to depend.

It is upon this principle of humanity as well as the law founded upon this principle, that the United States must stand.

Willing to be Intermediary

The Government of the United States is happy to observe that Your Excellency's note closes with the intimation that the Imperial German Government is willing, now as before, to accept the good offices of the United States in an attempt to come to an understanding with the Government of Great Britain by which the character and conditions of war upon the sea may be changed.

The Government of the United States would consider it a privilege thus to serve its friends and the world. It stands ready at any time to convey to either Government any intimation or suggestion the other may be willing to have it convey and cordially invites the Imperial German Government to make use of its services in this way at its convenience. The whole world is concerned in anything that may bring about even a partial accommodation of interests or in any way mitigate the terrors of the present distressing conflict.

In the meantime whatever arrangements may happily be made between the parties to the war, and whatever may be the opinion of the Imperial German Government have been the provocation of their circumstances justification for the past acts of their commanders at sea, the Government of the United States confidently looks to see the justice and humanity of the Government of Germany vindicated in all cases where Americans have been wronged or their rights as neutrals invaded.

Cannot Admit War Zone Claim
"The Government of the United States therefore very earnestly and very solemnly renews the representations of its note transmitted to the Imperial German Government on the 15th of May, and relies in these representations upon the principles of humanity the universally recognized understandings of international law and the ancient friendship of the German nation."

The Government of the United States cannot admit that the proclamation of a war zone from which neutral ships have been warned to keep away may be made to operate as in any degree an abbreviation of the rights either of American shipmasters or of American citizens bound on lawful errands as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality. It does not understand the Imperial German Government to question those rights.

It understands it, also, to accept as established beyond question the principle that the lives of non-combatants cannot lawfully or rightfully be put in jeopardy by the capture or destruction of an unresisting merchantman and to recognize the obligation to take sufficient precaution to ascertain whether a suspected merchantman is in fact of belligerent nationality or is in fact carrying contraband of war under a neutral flag.

The Government of the United States deems it reasonable to expect that the Imperial German Government will adopt the measures necessary to put these principles into practice in respect of the safeguarding of American lives and American ships and asks for assurances that this will be done.

ROBERT HANSING,
Secretary of State ad interim.

AUTO TAKES FIRE IN NEWBURY

A two passenger Buick automobile owned by the H. A. Johnson Food Supply Company of Boston, and driven by Frank Harrington, a representative of the company, was damaged by fire in Newbury yesterday, and was only saved from a total loss by the prompt arrival of a fire extinguisher from the home of a nearby resident.

Mr. Harrington left this city shortly before eight o'clock and had but just passed Dole's corner in Newbury, when flames burst out from beneath the machine. The driver brought his car to a stop and the fire was extinguished.

A message was sent to the local garage in this city, and a car sent down which towed the damaged machine here for repairs. It will be several days before it will be in commission again.

inch by inch Studebaker proves its superiority

And it's SUPERIORITY that you can see for yourself—with your own eyes, if you'll just take the opportunity to go over the Studebaker chassis in detail.

Some manufacturers, you know, who make both a Four and a Six, put the GOOD design into the more expensive SIX. But you take this Studebaker FOUR and stand it side by side with any other car, and study it just on QUALITY. And inch by inch, note the Studebaker superiorities.

First of all, look at that Studebaker-Wagner Electric System. Simple—light—balanced—almost to the ounce—every little detail of the whole system EASY to get at. Has been used on 100,000 Studebakers with unflinching success.

And then, note how simply and cleanly that Studebaker Motor is built—and how ACCESSIBLE it is. Carburetor sits high on side of the motor. Valves are easily opened up. And you can make any inspection or adjustment simply by raising the hood. Easy to develop plenty of POWER, too—but to make every last drop of gasoline pull.

And just in passing, look at the Studebaker Steering Gear. Irreversible type, you know, that keeps the road-shocks away from the steering-wheel and makes driving EASIER—and safer. Adjustable for wear, too. Many cars use the old, reversible type that costs less.

Then, note that simple Studebaker Clutch. It's a cone clutch, you know—leather-faced, SOFT-gripping. No jerking when you throw it in. And it's so easy to get at for inspection or oiling.

Then, note that ALL the wiring is enclosed in flexible steel conduits that protect them from moisture and oil and grease and damage from tools. Makes wiring trouble-proof.

Observe the Willard Storage Battery that Studebaker uses. Best that's made—3-cell type. Placed so as to be EASY to see and get at for filling. That's Studebaker attention to details.

And that Studebaker Brake Equalizer—that's mighty important. Many cars omit it—too costly. But it makes the cars SAFER—stops skidding—saves tires. And the only other one like this is on a $5,000 car.

Notice, too, that the transmission is in unit with the Rear Axle. Increases the manufacturing cost—but insures perfect alignment, smoothes any vibration of the gears and gets more even distribution of weight. Makes the whole car ride and drive more easily.

And note that Studebaker uses TWO radius rods and a torque arm. Many cars drive thro' the springs. But that necessitates stiffer springs. Makes the car HARD-riding. While the TWO radius rods and the torque arm that Studebaker uses leaves the springs free just for smothering the jolts and jers. Makes the car marvelously EASY-riding.

And then, of course, that FULL-floating Rear Axle will interest you. For, with one exception, every other FOUR uses the earlier type. But Studebaker uses this FULL-floating axle even tho' it's more costly, because it's so much SAFER and easier to get at. Carries the weight of the car on the axle housing and has TWO Timken Bearings in each hub to take up the side-thrusts. Axle shaft only has ONE duty—to turn the wheels. Shaft can be removed, too, in less than two minutes. Note, too, that axle housing. Other cars use malleable castings—THIS is a much stronger and much LIGHTER steel stamping with folded edges.

And so you can go over this Studebaker inch by inch and find scores of SUPERIORITIES. For Studebaker has built this FOUR to live up to the PROMISE of that name of Studebaker. Every last detail has to represent the latest achievement in engineering and the highest quality in manufacturing. We don't want you to buy the car unless you are satisfied that it does, too. But we KNOW that when you stand it side by side with any other car, you'll find that just on merit it's a better buy. And it costs you from $90 to $225 less at the start—and less right along in upkeep. See it today.

LEADERS DROP GAME TO COAL COMPANY

Y. M. C. A. Defeated by 13 to 2
Score in League Game.

It was just owing to circumstances that the Consolidation Coal Company took the scalp of the Y. M. C. A. team by the score of 13 to 2. But it was one of the best games to watch that any of the teams have played this season. The C. C. C. boys had their batting eyes with them and they put two pitchers out of the game in short order. The entire Y. M. C. A. team was up in the air and there was no way to stop the run getting. Jordan started the game for the Y. M. C. A. and was putting the first one over to the batters. The C. C. C. batters liked their first rate and belted out three husky hits, one double and two triples, and his day's work was done. Shuttleworth swapped places with Jordan and was going pretty good for a while when the batters "found" him for a few hits. Shuttleworth got wild, hit two batters, forcing in one run, and he got the hook, changing places with McPheters. McPheters allowed them only one run, but it wasn't the Y. M. C. A.'s day by a long shot.

While at the bat they couldn't bunch their hits and out of five hits the best they could tally was two runs. There was something wrong with their base running also, as three of the runners were out stealing in the last inning. But it was a game that was enjoyed by all and even the players on the Y. M. C. A. team were having a good time after things started.

New York, June 11—Hans Wagner (left) and Tyrus Cobb of Pittsburgh and Detroit respectively, rank first in the affections of the fans throughout the country. Ty is leading the American league in three departments of the game—batting, base stealing and base getting. He is without a doubt, the greatest ball player that ever lived. Hans at present is not as good as he has been in years gone by, when he ranked first among the shortstops of the country, and led his league in pounding the pill. However, he is still conceded first honors among the shortstops of his league, though he has gone back somewhat in batting. Hans in his prime held the position now held by the great Ty, and it is because of his past glory that he is still held in high esteem by the fans. However, Hans is still far from being in the

has been class. While his batting average (this season) is low—in figures his hitting has been of the timely variety, and there are at least a half dozen hurlers on his circuit who can testify to Hans' deadly efficiency in the pinch as. He has broken up innumerable ball games to date, and there is no immediate danger that he will be placed in the hurler's "easy mark" class. Picture of Hans and Ty was made at a recent field meet at Syracuse, N. Y.

ROAD BUILDING IN CALIFORNIA

Oakland, Cal., June 10—A ten acre lot near Oakland's new municipal auditorium will show in September the finest examples of road building in the world. The lot has been set aside for experimental work by the experts of the American Road Builders Association and the American Highway Association, which will hold a joint convention in Oakland under the name of the Pan-American Road Congress. Ten thousand persons are expected to attend the meeting.

The ten acres will be cross-graded with the very latest examples of road building, 29 to 150 feet lengths. Every conceivable kind of road will be exhibited, some of them to be finished before the convention meets and others to be worked on during the meeting, to show the latest methods and machinery used in road building.

Practical demonstrations of up-to-date and ahead of date ways of construction will be made. City and county officials from all over the country have already announced their intention of being in Oakland at the time that they may benefit by such an exhibition as applied to their own communities.

With one exception, this will be the largest convention of the kind that are to meet here this year. The exception is the National Education Association, which will bring 60,000 persons, mainly school teachers and officials, to Oakland from August 16th to 22nd.

FOURTH OF JULY TETANUS

The American people have reason to congratulate themselves over at least one achievement, and that is the rapid disappearance of Fourth of July tetanus. While the total caseload of the glorious day are less than a quarter what they were five years ago the deaths from tetanus have shown a much greater reduction. In 1907 there were 417 Fourth of July victims of that dread malady. In 1909 the number had been reduced to 150, while from last season's celebration there were but 3. This is life conservation in the true sense of the term. "Why not entirely eliminate the disease this year?" asks the United States Public Health Service.

The blank cartridge wound is the great cause of Fourth of July tetanus. When driven into the tissues the wadding carries with it innumerable bacteria, and the absorption of the poisonous products given off during the growth of these organisms produces the disease. The bacilli thrive only in the absence of oxygen. It is for this reason that the physician enlarges the wound of inlet and after removing all foreign material, dresses the injury in Ithaca, N. Y. June 11—Charles B. Courtney veteran coach of the Cornell navy has definitely decided upon three crews which will represent the Ithaca team in the Intercollegiate Regatta on the Hudson June 23. The crews will leave for the training camp on June 12th.

Since the reorganization of this varsity boat, following defeats by Yale and Harvard, improvement has been rapid and Courtney will have a powerful, smooth rowing and game crew.

In addition to a good variety Courtney has a fast Junior Eight and a very lively freshman crew. The Ithacaans expect to be big factors in every race on the program.

The big shakedown in the varsity crew that followed the defeat by Harvard left only four men of the original varsity crew. They are Collier, Andrus, O'Brien and Cushing. Terriberry, Stahl, Mole and Welles have been relegated to other crews. The stroke and the eight in its early races. BRYAN WILL ADDRESS LYNN ELKS MONDAY

President Wilson and Secretary Daniels' Unable to Be Present.

Washington, June 10.—Announcement was made today that William J. Bryan had accepted an invitation to be the guest of Lynn Lodge of Elks at the Flag Day Celebration to be held in Lynn June 14 under the auspices of that organization.

Ex-Secretary Bryan will make his first public address since parting from President Wilson, at Lynn where he will be the principal speaker at a celebration. The President declined an invitation some time ago and Secretary of the Navy Daniels who had agreed to visit Lynn cancelling his acceptance last week.

Before retiring as secretary of state, Mr. Bryan had tentatively promised Congressman Phelan to make an address in Lynn and in response to a telegraphic inquiry as to his intention of keeping the tentative engagement Mr. Bryan replied this afternoon that he would visit Lynn.

Senator Lodge, it is understood here is to make a patriotic address and the bringing together upon the same platform of two such prominent persons in national affairs promises to make the Flag Day celebration in Lynn conspicuous throughout the country.

WILL AVOID MIDDLE STREET

Auto Blue Book Warns Automobilists.

The condition of Middle street has been called to the attention of the publishers of the "Blue Book," the official guide of the American Automobile Association for the year of 1915. In the list of routes for automobilists a leaf has been inserted advising autos to avoid Middle street, coming in and out of Portsmouth. This appears to be the second time that a highway has been posted in the book, the other being Noble's Island, some few years ago. We can be consoled, however, that Islington street is in good shape and autos passing through this city which do not follow the seashore route will find much comfort in the ride from the Plains. It is unfortunate that it has become necessary to issue such a bulletin, but it can be taken that the association simply did so in order that the Greenland road and Islington street be taken as a more comfortable way of reaching and leaving Portsmouth.

The little host cut and served a birthday cake to each of the guests and music and games, including a peanut hunt, provided no end of amusement for the little ones.

ANOTHER SUFFRAGE COUNTRY

Denmark is the second independent nation to grant full suffrage to women, Norway having been the first. Women enjoy parliamentary suffrage also in Finland, Bosnia, Australia and New Zealand, but all these are dependencies of other powers. Incidentally, the enfranchisement of Denmark's women shows once more the tendency of equal suffrage to spread from one neighboring State to another, which has been so marked in America. If it had worked badly in Norway, Denmark would not have adopted it.

NEW SOUTH MILL BRIDGE WILL COST CITY $1,700.00

At the adjourned meeting of the city council held last evening at City Hall the most important matter settled was that pertaining to the repairing of the South Mill Bridge. At the meeting held last Thursday a committee was appointed to look into the matter after the Board of Public Works had asked for funds with which to make these very necessary repairs. The committee reported favorably and on motion of Councilman Smart it was voted to transfer $1,700. from the contingent fund and to have a steel bridge with an asphalt top built at once.

On the question of the repairs to the wall about the Point of Graves cemetery it was voted to give the committee on city lands and buildings power to repair the same.

The Rockingham Light and Power Company were granted the right to set four poles on Gates street and one new pole on Pleasant street near the corner of Court street, and two new poles on Willow lane, the city to have the use of an upper cross arm for fire police or municipal telephones as desired.

The council voted to transfer from the contingent fund the sum of $100. to be used under the direction of the committee appointed by the Mayor for fire works and music for the 4th of July celebration, $100 of the amount will be expended for the music.

On a petition from residents on Maplewood avenue to have the water main extended 3100 feet from where it now ends the council voted to have the Public Works Department estimate the cost of the work and the pressure secured if the work is done. The cost was estimated by those interested as being about $2000 but on account of the necessity of having to build the addition in a circuit in order to get the pressure that would be required may bring the cost up to $5000. The petitioners urged the passage of this measure as at present they are obliged to get their water supply from wells that are now almost dry.

William Dow petitioned the council to amend the ordinance calling for a special license for the running of dances from fifty cents each session and allow him to pay a special fee of $25.00 for a year's permit. The matter was laid on the table until the next meeting.

The auditor's report was read and accepted and it was voted to pay bills amounting to $1270.22.

A request of the members of the People's Baptist church to exchange two gas lamps and a stove for the payment of a gas bill contracted by them amounting to $8.00 more or less was referred to the committee on city lands and buildings.

The meeting adjourned at 8.49 until Thursday July 8.

ANTI SUFFRAGE NOTES

Remember

That if you do not fight against suffrage you do, by your indifference, fight with those allies for suffrage Socialism and Feminism!

Meyer London, Socialist congressman, announces that from now to the end of the campaign all his energies will be devoted to securing votes for women. He is for the Revolution.

The New York Daily Call, leading organ of the Socialists in this country declares that a million Socialist voters are mobilizing for female suffrage. They are for the Revolution.

Max Eastman, editor of the revolutionary Socialist paper "The Masses" is Secretary of the New York Men's League for Woman Suffrage. Mr. Eastman says: "Women should be freed from all limitations of law, dogma and custom." These are the teachings of both Socialism and Feminism.

"If women suffrage in capitalist countries is anything it is the breath of the social revolution"—Daniel De Lion, Socialist.

Socialism is rampant in foreign countries which have woman suffrage—Finland, Norway, New Zealand, and Australia. "We have the opinions of these nations where women vote" says a pamphlet issued by the Men's League for Woman Suffrage which was organized by Socialists in 1912, "which support our reasonable expectations that their influence will favor rather than retard Socialism."

Mrs. Vickery, a prominent worker in New South Wales, said: "Woman suffrage has simply forwarded the most Socialistic form of legislation. Socialism is the only gainer." The Socialists are working with might and main to bring about woman suffrage knowing how greatly it will help their cause.

A despatch from Reno to the New York Call, the organ of the Socialists on November 5, the day after woman suffrage went through in Nevada, says: "The victory is due to the pulled Socialist vote which went solidly for suffrage. The Socialists campaigned steadily and effectively for suffrage, and to them goes the credit for its victory."

Socialism has already made great gains in the western states since women have voted, as the Socialists fully expected. The New York Call, commenting with amusement on the fact that suffrage has become a fashionable fad, says:

"How many a society belle would tremble if she knew with what mighty forces she had put her feet in line, and what was the ultimate goal of her latest fad."

The Socialist—woman suffrage alliance is a real menace. Socialists openly avow the connection; suffragists in denying it merely show their ignorance of the situation, and confirm the opinion that they are being used as tools by their clever allies.

"Forty-five per cent of the woman vote in Los Angeles was cast for Harriman, socialist candidate for mayor of that city"—New York Call, socialist paper.

Woman suffrage and the Socialist movement of New Zealand and Australia, have been responsible for a great deal of the legislation in those countries that has made them the champion debt-ridden states of the world. The public debt of New Zealand today is equal to $1,000 for every family living in that country, and Australia is almost as bad, for the debt there is over $1,500 for every family.

The Socialist Suffrage Brigade

The Socialist Suffrage Brigade, whose activities had been temporarily interrupted by the preparation for May day, will resume its itinerant propaganda tomorrow afternoon. The brigade assembles every Saturday at some Socialist centre and then sallies forth in a body to cover some definite district with Socialist suffrage literature. The participants also wear red votes-for-the-women sashes and carry banners inscribed with suffrage slogans. The Socialist Suffrage Brigade is under the leadership of two very active young comrades, Tracy D. Mygatt and Eunice M. Witherspoon. There is no limit to the size of the brigade. New recruits may enlist at any time. As a systematic distribution of literature is at least as effective as public speaking, it is, moreover, work that every one can do. All comrades willing and able to help are therefore urged to join the Socialist Suffrage Brigade.—From the New York Call of May 7.

EXPORTS ON THE INCREASE ON ACCOUNT OF WAR

Washington, June 10. (Special correspondence).—War orders from Europe continue to stimulate business conditions in the United States. Though industry has not yet reached the degree of activity enjoyed two years ago, it is noticeably better than last year after it had suffered the effects of one year of Democratic administration.

One of the disclosures of the past week was the effect of the European war on the market for copper. The price of copper has rapidly advanced and copper mining and smelting companies began doing a profitable business in the last two or three months; yet there was no noticeable demand for copper from Europe. Investigations as to the cause for renewed prosperity in the copper industry brought the information that the use of copper in the manufacture of brass, in making cartridges, shells and other war equipment had created a new and enlarged demand. Exports of brass for the first three months in 1915 amounted to nearly 12,000,000 pounds, as compared with 1,751,000 pounds for the same period a year ago.

The entry of Italy as a party to the European war has called attention to the fact that for the last few months that country has been an enormous buyer of American products, either in preparation for her own needs during the war, or as an intermediary in supplying material to other European nations. For nine months ending in March, exports to Italy amounted to $133,700,000, as compared with $38,800,000 for the corresponding period of 1914. Shipments of wheat alone during this period amounted to 1,370,000 bushels, as compared with 1,400,000 bushels for the same period in 1914. This shows, in a large measure, the reason why farmers have been getting a high price for wheat.

Dispatches from Chicago give the information that British and Belgian buyers have been taking American horses freely and paying as high as $200 each. Market reports from Kansas City contain the information that the European war has added enormously to the value and demand for grain and has provided a market for thousands of horses for which the farmer had little need.

It is apparent that although Germany is cut off from direct communication with the United States, it is securing American products in large quantities from other sources. For example, in March of this year our exports to Denmark were more than $11,500,000, while for the same month a year ago, they were only $1,350,000. Other countries bordering on or adjacent to Germany, show corresponding increases in purchases from this country, leaving no room for doubt that goods sold to them find their way to German buyers.

Brooks and Lorella

Two clever comedy acrobats at the Portsmouth Theatre. Be sure and see them

It is not alone in munitions of war and foodstuffs that America has found enormous demand in Europe. A Providence, R. I., concern ships hundreds of thousands of pairs of shoe laces each week to England, and a Philadelphia factory filled an emergency call for 10,000,000 needles in one lot to Liverpool. Drugs, chemicals and hospital supplies add very materially to the demand. Automobile exports in February, 1915, aggregated $4,897,812 in value as compared with $2,481,955 in the same month in 1914 an increase of more than 93 per cent.

All this not only creates a market for American products, but provides business for steamship companies that necessarily do part of their own buying in this country. The French line alone has within the past three weeks placed under charter 37 steamers to be utilized mainly for the transportation of war freight from the Atlantic seaboard to Europe.

But even all these orders for American products are not sufficient to keep up the price of some commodities under competition with products given free entry under the Democratic tariff law. Last week corn declined about one cent a bushel, largely on account of prospects of larger shipments of corn from Argentina.

BOSTON LETTER

Boston June 10.—An important statement of what Massachusetts should do in its campaign for public health was made by Dr. William J. McLaughlin head of the State Health Department, in the course of an address before the 134th anniversary banquet of the Massachusetts Medical Society. He said, "We must educate in the schools. The children must be taught prevention methods, and it is going to be the work of the State Health Department through its inspectors to see that this is done." He said, "It is evident that what we need is not more knowledge of causation of the knowledge we already possess. I believe that the time has arrived for a state wide organization of all those interested in public health education. I believe that such an organization should include all health officers and every agency engaged in public health, nursing or social service, or the teaching of hygiene in this Commonwealth. Organization is necessary to secure co-operation, to prevent duplication, and to get the full value of the efforts made and the money expended for public health education."

The Greater Boston Association of Patriotic Instructors will have an observance of Flag Day Monday evening, June 14 at 8 p. m. in Faneuil hall to which all patriotic organizations have been invited. The special guests include Governor Walsh, who will be the orator of the evening; Lieut. Governor Cushing, Mayor Curley who will extend the greeting of the City of Boston; J. H. Le Wis, president of the National Association of patriotic instructors, of which the Greater Boston Association is a local branch; Senators and Congressmen, mayors of surrounding cities, former governors of the state, and official representatives of State patriotic societies.

The two million dollar Widener memorial library at Harvard will be dedicated on commencement day, Thursday, June 24. The magnificent building was erected by Mrs. George D. Widener of Philadelphia as a memorial to her son, Harry D. Wide-

CENTRAL LABOR MEN ELECT DELEGATES

At the business session of the meeting of the Central Labor Union held last evening Richard A. Cooney was elected as the delegate to the state federation to be held at Franklin July 20. Mr. Cooney is a member of the Coopers Union. As the alternate to the convention the union elected Dennis Kelley of the Hatters Union.

M. B. Clark and William H. Cullen will also attend the Federation meeting as delegate and alternate, respectively from the Typographical union, Portsmouth Local No. 684.

Following the business session the meeting adjourned to a social session. Thomas Fullam and Richard A. Cooney rendered several pleasing vocal solos, accompanied at the piano by Marie Loveland. James McGrath made a decided hit with some very clever clog dancing. The remainder of the evening was occupied by an entertaining given by talent from some of the ship's company of the U. S. S. Montana and the efforts of the boys were appreciated to even a greater extent than that given by the members themselves.

The arrangements of the entertainment was in the hands of the following committee:—William Cogan, John Quirk and Artie Schurman.

WHITNEY DIED IN THIS CITY

Estate at Hampton Beach Figures in the Will Contest.

The contest over the will of the late Theodore D. Whitney which ended in a mistrial in the Massachusetts courts has been read with much interest in this city and Hampton where Mr. Whitney was well known. He died at the Portsmouth Hospital on September 17, 1914.

The case was on trial for about 15 days.

The contest of the will was made by Mrs. Anne I. Whitney of the Hotel Brunswick, widow of Whitney. She was left $20,000 outright in the will and the income of half the estate for life. The will left substantially half the estate to Mrs. Carrie A. Myrick of the Hotel Parlan, Whitney's sister and to his friend of many years, Mrs. Amy H. Barker of 172 Harvard street, Brookline. Whitney married his wife in 1877 but had not lived with her from 1881.

He owned valuable real estate at Hampton Beach which figured to a great extent in the contest.

It was voted to unite for the annual picnic with the Sunday school to be held in July. This is the last meeting of the season. The next season will begin in September.

IT'S UP TO CITY.

Must Repair the Highway on Noble's Island.

Mayor Venton says the argument as to who controls the highway on Noble's Island is dead, and that the records of 1895 at City Hall show that it is city property and neither the railroad or the Portsmouth and Kittery Bridge Company have anything whatever to do with it. It is up to the city to maintain the proper care of the highway to the toll gate. With the long standing controversy disposed of, there should be no hitch and for the good of the city the road should receive the immediate attention of the public works department before the summer travel is at its height.

It's our opinion that we've never shown quite so good suits, style considered as well as quality, as we are now offering at the popular price of fifteen dollars. The patterns include tartan plaids, fancy worsteds, novelty mixtures and a variety of stripe effects. The models in the young men's lines are extremely smart. We mustn't forget to speak of our blue serges at this price, fifteen dollars, as they are of exceptional value at the price.
